The Poor, the Stranger, and the Kingdom

Daniel Hammons / Saturday, November 21, 2026

Impartial; Love / Leviticus 19

Introduction

Proverbs 24:23–25

Deuteronomy 10:16–20

God’s impartiality as the foundation

Leviticus 19:1–2

1 Peter 1:14–17

Exodus 23:1–3

Leviticus 19:15–16

Deuteronomy 6:24–25

Psalm 119:172–174

Proverbs 18:5

Deuteronomy 1:16–17

James 2:1–10

Covenant holiness as imitation of God

Matthew 22:34–40

Leviticus 19:1–4

Leviticus 19:9–18

Leviticus 19:30–37

Matthew 5:43–48

Matthew 23:23–24

Final Synthesis

Psalm 146:5–10

Micah 6:6–8

Psalm 82:1–4

What examples of injustice in society does the sermon highlight?

How does the sermon describe God's impartiality compared to human judgment?

What scriptural basis does the sermon provide for the command to be holy as God is holy?

In what ways can we actively demonstrate impartiality in our daily interactions?

How can understanding God's character motivate us to change our behaviors towards others?

What is the main focus of the sermon regarding justice and mercy?

Which biblical passages are referenced to explain God's standards of righteousness?

How does the message of treating others fairly connect to Jesus' teachings?

What practical steps can you take to show kindness to those who are different from you?

If faced with a situation where a friend is being treated unfairly, how should you respond according to the sermon?

How can we apply the principle of loving our neighbors to modern social issues?

What does it mean to 'love your enemies' in real-life situations?

How does the sermon explain the relationship between holiness and justice?

What warning does the sermon give about conforming to the majority?

How can we ensure our judgments are not influenced by appearance or status?