Luke 21:34-36—“But take heed to yourselves, lest your souls be weighed down with self-indulgence, and drunkenness, or the anxieties of this life, and that day come on you suddenly, like a falling trap; for it will come on all dwellers on the face of the whole earth. But beware of slumbering; and every moment pray that you may be fully strengthened to escape from all these coming evils, and to take you stand in the presence of the Son of Man” (Weymouth New Testament).

An article by Steve McCann titled “The West Is Facing Another Munich Moment” was posted at americanthinker.com on Oct. 31, 2023. Following is the article.

On March 5, 1946 in Fulton, Missouri, Winston Churchill delivered one of his most famous and memorable speeches. While often entitled the “Iron Curtain Speech” (for his classic description of the Soviet Union’s occupation of Eastern Europe), he also said the following about World War II: “There never was a war in all history easier to prevent by timely action than the one which has just desolated great areas of the globe.”

Between 1935 and 1939 there were numerous occasions when the democracies of Europe by forcefully confronting Hitler could have thwarted his megalomaniacal ambitions and prevented a global conflagration. Instead, the political and intellectual elites of Europe, naively convinced of their unique powers of persuasion and sincerity, believed they could “deal with Hitler.”

In their last chance to stop the Nazis, they negotiated an agreement with Hitler giving him virtual carte blanche to invade and occupy a chunk of Czechoslovakia – convinced that he had no other territorial ambitions. Neville Chamberlain foolishly declared this “Munich Agreement” to be “peace in our time.”

Fortified with the perceived reality that he would not be financially or militarily constrained, Hitler invaded Poland within a year. The hubris and naivete of the European leaders eventuated in a devastated continent and the deaths of over 40 million men, women and children – and the displacement of nearly 65 million in Europe alone.

The world is yet again staring at the near inevitability of another global conflagration. The flashpoint is in the Middle East and the Hitler of our time: the Mullahs of Iran.

The West, led by Barack Obama and Joe Biden, have chosen to follow in the footsteps of the self-absorbed European leaders of the 1930s in dealing with Iran and their terrorist legions of Hamas, Hezbollah, Palestinian Islamic Jihad, and Ansar Allah (Houthis) among others.

The Obama/Biden policy in dealing with Iran has been to facilitate Iran in becoming a dominant player in the region in the naive belief that if the West (and in particular the United States) treats the Mullahs of Iran as equals, they will evolve into non-belligerent leaders who can be trusted. Even if that means the acquisition of nuclear weapons and intercontinental ballistic missiles and sacrificing America's only resolute ally in the region (Israel).

In 1979, Ayatollah Khomeini (the founding father of the Islamic Republic) claimed that the Iranian revolution was just the start of the revolution within the world of Islam. He set in motion Iran's underlying revival, to evict the infidels and to impose a unified Islamic government on the Muslim world.

Despite four decades of a crippled economy and numerous domestic uprisings, the Iranian regime has and continues to divert untold billions of dollars into military procurement and support of their Islamist proxies. Terrorist groups who not only target the West and Israel, but foment revolutionary conflicts in other Muslim nations.

These intractable conflicts have changed the face of countries such as Syria, Yemen, and Lebanon – who are now under de facto Iranian control. Nations such as Iraq and Afghanistan are increasingly under the influence of the Iranian Mullahs – and Saudi Arabia and Jordan are being targeted for instability by Iran's Revolutionary Guard. Unless stopped in its tracks, Iranian hegemony over the Middle East is no longer a matter of if – but when.

American and Western foreign policy has consistently refused to understand the power of the ideology spawned by the Iranian Revolution.

The Iranian worldview promotes repressive governance along religious lines combined with uncontrolled hostility to Israel and the West – as well as a deep-seated determination to unite, by force if necessary, the two major sects of Islam. It has been the driving force of instability and violence in the region for decades.

Western policy makers (with the exception of Donald Trump) have steadfastly underestimated the extent of Iran's commitment to their revolutionary ideology. The West's repeated overtures to Iran (and unfathomable economic cooperation and support) has only increased their antipathy toward the West – in particular the United States and Israel (the only nation in the region founded on Western values). Thanks to the appeasement policies of Obama, Biden and much of the West, Iran today is stronger and more belligerent than ever.

- Iran can build a nuclear weapon within a matter of a few months and has sufficient fissionable material to build several more.
- Additionally, Iran is feverishly working on constructing intercontinental ballistic missiles that have the range to hit Europe or the United States. Iran could have them within a matter of months as it has recently launched its third military satellite into orbit.

The greenlighting of Hamas's brutality in their invasion of Israel (a fully militarized Hezbollah controlling Lebanon and threatening Israel; increasing involvement in Syria; and overt manipulation of the Houthis to attack Saudi Arabia) is indicative of Iran's confidence that they can be increasingly aggressive, and the West (in particular the United States under Biden) will do little or nothing to stop their determination to control the Middle East.

This mindset also encompasses the strategy that through terrorism and societal upheaval precipitated by massive Islamic immigration they can undermine and eventually conquer the Western world. Thus, the West is again at another Munich moment.

- Will they continue to turn a blind eye towards Iran's intractable belligerency and persist in constraining Israel in the myopic hope that doing so would bring about "peace in our time"?
- If this is the course of action, then there will be a regional war that could quickly spiral out of control as Iran's revolutionary religious fervor does not rule out the use of nuclear weapons; thus, an inevitable global conflagration.

Iran as presently constituted cannot be bargained with. The only possibility of avoiding the above scenario is for the West to do the following.

1. Unleash and abet Israel in destroying Hamas and Hezbollah.
2. Negotiate separate mutual defense pacts with Israel and Saudi Arabia.
3. Reinstate, enforce and expand the Trump sanctions against Iran.
4. Isolate the Mullahs.
5. Actively support and promote regime change in Iran.
6. Destroy their nuclear program if they do not abandon it.

The Western world is at a crossroad.

- Will it once again hear the anguished voices of millions dead and displaced asking their self-serving leaders: why did you not prevent world war when you had the chance?
- Or will the West heed the lessons of World War II in dealing with an intractable and borderline deranged enemy in a world awash with nuclear weapons?

An article by Staff titled "Amid Israel's War With Hamas, President Herzog Sends Message of Hope" was posted at jpost.com on Nov. 3, 2023. Following are excerpts of the article.

In his inspiring address to the nation on Wednesday night, President Isaac Herzog stressed “the strength and resilience, spirit and soul” of Israeli society, urging citizens to stand together and not give up hope as the country’s security forces battle the Hamas terrorist regime in Gaza.

Herzog hit all the right notes in his speech.

“It’s been almost a month since our country underwent a serious change,” he began. “For almost a month, we have been in a war like no other. Almost a month has passed since that cursed day when the sun rose, the flowers blossomed, and butchers slaughtered, slaughtered, and slaughtered – women and men, elderly and infants, from kibbutzim and communities, cities and towns.”

In the past month, the president said, he and his wife Michal have met families and communities displaced from their homes, and visited the wounded in hospitals and the families of those missing or being held hostage.

“Truly an Israeli mosaic like no other,” he noted. “The pain of the families of the hostages and the missing is simply unfathomable. My conversations with them are the most painful conversations I have held in all my life.”

Repeating the message he conveys in these conversations, Herzog looked directly into the camera and said, “I say to you what told the families: Unequivocally, the hostages are in our thoughts, and their return is an integral part of the success of this campaign – of course, alongside victory in this decisive war against the enemy and restoring security to all Israeli citizens.”

In response to the psychological war being waged by a monstrous enemy using the most abhorrent of tools, Herzog declared: “They want to scare us with videos, rumors, and lies. They try to undermine us psychologically, to hurt our personal and national spirit. We will not let them succeed. We just won’t give in to them. Our spirit cannot be broken.”

Urging Israelis not to spread unfounded rumors, he expressed his appreciation for the responsibility shown by Israeli media in their decision not to play into the hands of Hamas.

“Among other things, the enemy seeks to incite hatred within us – between Jewish citizens and Arab citizens,” he said. “Such attempts must be fought uncompromisingly and unequivocally. We must eradicate any incarnation of enmity, racism, and violence towards different groups within us. Remember that there are dozens of Arab citizens here who paid with their lives in the terrible massacre, and as part of the security forces and the IDF.”

Urging all Israelis to express their “pain, concern, and tears,” the president then zoomed in on what he called a source of great hope at this time: the unbreakable Israeli spirit.

“It blows through each outreached hand, in the exemplary Israeli volunteerism and mutual responsibility, seeking to strengthen, to embrace, to support,” he said. “This spirit is you – my sisters and brothers – the people of Israel. Israeli society is our true secret weapon. You are my greatest hope, our greatest hope. Am Yisrael Chai! (The people of Israel lives!)”

“Above all,” he said, “we have national resilience and unending strength. And with us at every moment, we have the power of hope.”

He concluded his address by quoting from Hatikvah, Israel’s national anthem: “Our hope is not lost, the 2,000-year-old hope, to be a free people in our country, the land of Zion and Jerusalem.”

Isaiah 55:6-11–“Seek you the Lord while He may be found, call upon Him while He is near. Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; let him return to the Lord, and He will have mercy on him; and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon. ‘For My thoughts are not your thoughts, nor are your ways My ways,’ says the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than your ways, and My thoughts than your thoughts. For as the rain comes down, and the snow from heaven, and do not return there, but water the earth, and make it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower and bread to the eater, so shall My word by that goes forth from My mouth; it shall not return to Me void, but it shall accomplish what I please, and it shall prosper in the thing for which I sent it.”
