An article by Shoshan Bryen titled “How Did the Masses Organize Anti-Israel Protests So Quickly?” was posted at DailyCaller.com on Dec. 4, 2023. Following are excerpts of the article.

Talking about National Socialists and Communists is complicated. But sometimes it must be done – this is one of those times.

Have you wondered how the inter-sectional masses organized anti-Israel demonstrations so quickly after the 10/7 massacres and kidnappings perpetrated against Israel by Hamas?

On northeastern American college campuses and in large Eastern cities, in London and Paris – tens of thousands in full-throated rage at Israel even before retaliation began.

They have been working on it for a while.

One explanation lies in the slim book, “The Israel Test” by George Gilder. Written in 2009, Gilder explained the “intersectional” movements (he didn’t call them that at the time) that thread together the following.

- Feminist and gender/sexuality radicals
- White radicals
- Black radicals
- Muslim radicals

What did they have in common? They were both radical and socialist by definition.

Obsessed with societal “gaps” between groups – gaps of income, power, achievement and status – and considering the impoverished Palestinian society, both anti-capitalists and anti-semites find it easy to see Israel not as a free country and creator of wealth, but a perpetrator of gaps.

Gilder, an ardent capitalist, starts there.

- Capitalism succeeds by growing resources and allowing those resources and their offshoots to spread through the population.
- Governments don’t grow resources; they collect them in the form of taxes and then redistribute them.
- Gilder said: “If governments were superior investors, the Soviet bloc would have been an economic triumph rather than an economic and environmental catastrophe. China would have thrived under Mao.”
- Jews are the avatar of what Gilder calls the “fondest dream of the 20th century Left, to reconcile democracy and socialism, to imagine democracy without economic freedom or a system of law and property rights that transcend the vicissitudes of elections.”
- Stalinists and Nazis versus capitalist entrepreneurs.
- Radical Arabs, feminists, black and Latino activists, eco-warriors, “gap-ologists,” and other unhappy people on one side – Jews on the other.
- To get their supporters out in the street, the Left only had to message its fellow-travelers to stand with the Hamas-supporters. Fast.

Side question: What caused the formerly pro-Israel Left to become radically anti-Israel and people previously friendly to Jews to become overtly anti-Semitic? Same answer.

Israel’s transformation from European socialism to high-tech prosperity was driven by capitalist entrepreneurs shored up by tens of thousands of Russian emigres determined to do in Israel what they couldn’t do in communist Russia – build, create, sell. As Israel became less the socialist dream, and Jews who survived the Holocaust became more politically and economically powerful, Israel lost its claim to the sympathy of the Left.

The space was quickly filled by the Palestinians, despite the fact that their poverty is not ascribable to Israel – (see the difference in Palestinian poverty figures outside Israel and the situation of Arab Israeli citizens). And much of the Leftist ideology is anathema to Palestinian radicals and much of the Palestinian law (in the West Bank and Gaza) would be anathema to Leftists if they knew about it.

For the Left, the old anti-Semitic tropes were reawakened. Jews were stealing from the poor Arabs – called “Israel Apartheid.” There was no other explanation needed.

And that (according to Gilder) was a “license to dispossess and kill their oppressors and to disrupt capitalist economies . . . No capitalist system can sustain prosperity amid constant violence.”

There, both Hamas and Western Leftists find justification for suicide bombings, indiscriminate rockets, massacres and kidnappings.

“Israel brought it on itself.”

And Nazis? Collaboration between Arabs and Nazis is an old story. And when Israel raided Yasser Arafat’s camps in Lebanon in 2006, there was an abundant supply of Hitler’s Mein Kampf written in Arabic. Hitler’s anti-Semitism was an amalgam of his belief in Jewish radical inferiority and Masonic intrigues, melded with his fundamental belief in the value of land and blood over creative capitalist endeavors.

Referring to Zionism, Hitler wrote: “They have not the slightest intention of building up a Jewish State of Palestine so as to live in it. What they really are aiming at is to establish a central organization for their international swindling and cheating.”

Jews again as avatars.

Gilder wrote: “Jews who gain power by prevailing in economic rivalry and groups that gain power by blood sacrifice is the perennial and always ultimately violent struggle for survival. It is the division between those who imagine that humans can manipulate nature and create new things under conditions of peace and those who believe that the greatest attainments come from solidarity and sacrifice in war. Hitler wrote, ‘He who would live must fight. He who does not wish to fight in this life, where permanent struggle is the law of life, has not the right to exist.’ ”

The “permanent struggle” for Palestinian leadership groups, is to keep alive the dream of violently erasing Israel. For their Leftist “inter-sectional” allies, it is the struggle to erase capitalism.

This is Gilder’s “test.”

- Israel is the pivot, the axis, the litmus, the trial.
- Are you for civilization or barbarianism?

- Are you for life or death?
- Are you for wealth or envy?
- Are you an exponent of excellence and accomplishment or of a leveling creed of troglodytic frenzy and hatred?

Now you know.

An article by Ruth Wasserman Lande titled “A Five-Step Roadmap to Middle East Peace” was posted at jpost.com on Dec. 8, 2023. Following are excerpts of the article.

In general – but more so following the October 7 atrocities, perpetuated by Hamas – there is no real go-to entity in the Middle East savvy enough to concoct a sustainable roadmap for the day after the current war.

Israel – immersed in its most urgent objective of winning this no-choice war and destroying Hamas – is seemingly unwilling to openly deal with this issue. In its view, talking about the “day after” may hint to Israel’s enemies that Jerusalem is less than determined to go all the way to the destruction of the military and logistic capabilities of Hamas and the other terrorist entities with the Gaza Strip – an is thus less enthusiastic to do so.

A myriad of Arab countries in the region are pressed by their public to criticize Israel, while simultaneously being wary of Hamas themselves, and of the potential leakage of the unrest into their own borders. Most are awaiting the outcomes of the war. Nobody in the region either respects or wishes to be seen partnering with a losing side.

Only following a clear cut victory over the terrorist entities with the Gaza Strip will Israel once more be considered a lucrative partner with which to side against Iran. Hence, the Arab countries prefer to remain on the fence – declaring that an immediate cease-fire is the optimal solution to the current unrest. Under these circumstances, it is key to lay down the very stepping stones of this roadmap right now.

1. Israel is tasked with the destruction of Hamas – in terms of its leadership, military capabilities and its mechanisms of “exporting” its radical ideology.
2. Re-Establishing the entire educational system (both in the Gaza Strip and in the West Bank) is required.
3. Rebuilding the infra-structure.
4. The West Bank and the Gaza Strip cannot be seen as one entity – but rather two

Palestinian state both thriving and prosperous as completely independent.

5. The immediate establishment of an international coalition against the mastermind of the current havoc we are all witnessing and experiencing in the Middle East (namely Iran).

An article by DeRoy Murdock titled “Lavish Green Goondoggles Leave CO2, Temperatures Virtually Untouched” was posted at dailycaller.com on Dec. 4, 2023. Following are excerpts of the article.

Through December 12, the “Climate” crowd is swarming COP-28, Dubai’s carbophobia cavalcade. The fact that these global-warming alarmists are surrounded by Earth’s deepest pools of fossil fuels makes their Hajj infinitely ironic.

Also astonishing is the nearly immeasurable impact of these people’s gyrations. They blow trillions of dollars, bludgeon human freedom, and yet do shockingly little to fix their vaunted “climate crisis.” One practically needs an electron microscope to find their promised reductions in allegedly venomous CO2 or supposedly lethal temperatures.

- According to the #ActInTime’s Climate Clock (high above Manhattan’s Union Square), humans have (at this writing) five years and 233 days until we boil to death in a cauldron of streaming carbon. Since The End is scheduled for Saturday, July 21, 2029 (mark your calendars!), Big Government Democrats offer jaw-droppingly paltry climate benefits – despite their spine-chilling predictions and unbridled interventionism.

Obama-Biden’s proposed Clean Power Plan was a diamond-encrusted specimen of do-nothing-ism.

- According to a May 2015 analysis by their own Energy Information Agency (between 2015 and 2025), the CPP would have slashed real GDP by $993 billion, or an average of $39.7 billion per year.

- It would have sliced real disposable income by $382 billion or $15.3 billion annually.

- It also would have chopped manufacturing shipments by $1.13 trillion or $45.4 billion per year.

- EIA forecast a decrease of 0.035 degrees Fahrenheit. This would have cranked a thermometer from 72 degrees Fahrenheit way down to 71.965 degrees.

As Billy Joel once sang: “Is that all you get for your money?”

Biden's blessed Inflation Reduction Act budgeted $369 billion for green-energy projects. Goldman Sachs subsequently slapped a $1.2 trillion price tag on the IRA.

Danish environmental expert Bjorn Lomborg ran the IRA through the United Nations' climate models.

- "Impact of new climate legislation," Lomborg specified.
- "Unnoticeable: 0.0009 degree Fahrenheit to 0.228 Fahrenheit in 2100."
- "This would chill thermostats from 72 degrees to 71.9991 degrees [maybe] 71.972."
- Biden said on January 31 that "if we don't stay under 1.5 degrees Celsius" (or 2.7 degrees Fahrenheit), "we're going to have a real problem."
- If a 0.0009 degrees Fahrenheit reduction costs $369 billion, then Biden's 2.7 degree Fahrenheit goal would devour (brace yourself) – $1.107 quadrillion (with a "Q").

Emperor Biden's electric-vehicle decree would require that at least 67% of new cars sold in 2032 be electric. This edict already is stalling the auto industry. On Wednesday, 3,882 U.S. car dealers in all 50 states wrote Biden – the message: stop tailgating!

"Already, electric vehicles are stacking up on our lots," the dealers complained. "The majority of customers are simply not ready to make the change."

This chaos aside, Biden's mandate would limit CO2 by 10 billion tons through 2055. Alas, China is expected to generate 320 billion tons of carbon in the next 32 years. So, Biden's "savings" will asphyxiate in a giant Chinese carbon cloud.

The Wall Street Journal's Holman Jenkins calculates that Biden's EV order will decrease planetary emissions by a whopping 0.18%.

"The climate effect of the extravagantly expensive Biden plan will steadily approach zero," Jenkins anticipates.

Rather than jail criminals or deport illegal aliens, Governor Kathy Hochul (New York Democrat) bans gas stoves and demands that gas heaters yield to electric heat pumps – never mind that her constituents freeze to death during post-blizzard blackouts.

"The global effect of the costly program of compulsory electrification will be a reduction in greenhouse gas emissions of less than 0.05%," the Empire Center for Public Policy calculates.

Obama, Biden, Hochul and their comrades might respond that no single bauble will fix everything, and every shiny object helps. Maybe.

But these four schemes alone carry an enormously high price in shredded freedom and incinerated taxpayer dollars – yet still leave at least 99.82% of emissions untouched.

As The Simpsons' Groundskeeper Willie once said: "Now we're wasting more energy than Ricky Martin's girlfriend."

To quote another Briton (William Shakespeare), perhaps this "sound and fury, signifying nothing" is not about cutting emissions or curbing Earth's temperatures. Maybe it's designed to help Democrats spend trillions of dollars to signal virtue, bark orders at the American people, and lavish taxpayers' hard-earned cash on their politically connected pals – from the Potomac to the Persian Gulf.

Isaiah 55:6-11—"Seek you the Lord while He may be found, call upon Him while He is near. Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; let him return to the Lord, and He will have mercy on him; and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon. 'For My thoughts are not your thoughts, nor are your ways My ways,' says the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than your ways, and My thoughts than your thoughts. For as the rain comes down, and the snow from heaven, and do not return there, but water the earth, and make it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower and bread to the eater, so shall My word by that goes forth from My mouth; it shall not return to Me void, but it shall accomplish what I please, and it shall prosper in the thing for which I sent it."
