Luke 21:34-36—“But take heed to yourselves, lest your souls be weighed down with self-indulgence, and drunkenness, or the anxieties of this life, and that day come on you suddenly, like a falling trap; for it will come on all dwellers on the face of the whole earth. But beware of slumbering; and every moment pray that you may be fully strengthened to escape from all these coming evils, and to take your stand in the presence of the Son of Man” (Weymouth New Testament).

An article by Rebekah Koffler titled “Why Kamala Harris’ DNC Nomination Reminds Me of the Soviet Union” was posted at nyopost.com on Aug. 24, 2024. Following is the article.

Last week at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago, Vice President Kamala Harris officially became the Democratic nominee for U.S. president.

This symbolic and celebratory event – which included a live concert and dance party with rapper Lil Jon – was the culmination of a carefully choreographed, by-the-powers-that-be process unprecedented in American politics.

President Joe Biden was removed from the race, dubiously replaced by Harris to run against GOP nominee Donald Trump.

In an unusual virtual roll call, Harris secured 99% of the participating delegates’ votes – along with hundreds of millions of dollars in campaign funding that donors had contributed to the Biden campaign.

As an immigrant from Soviet Russia, Harris’ nomination is giving me flashbacks to the totalitarian country I left behind.

Back in the USSR, we had no real elections – and ordinary people had no real say in who would govern “Mother Russia.”

State rulers would appear out of nowhere and geriatric General secretaries – such as Nikita

Khrushchev or Leonid Brezhnev – simply hand picked their successors.

There was no election campaigns, no party platforms, and no debates.

There was one candidate who represented both the Communist Party and the “nonparty” members and only his name was on the ballot. Citizenry showed up at the polling stations where they were greeted with music, various treats, trinkets and even children’s toys.

Those who ignored their civic duty got a knock on the door by so-called agitators – demanding to know why a Soviet comrade had yet to perform their duty at the ballot box.

Those who failed to appear were punished and labeled “anti-Soviet,” while the number of Soviet citizens who voted never fell below 99%.

And yet somehow, these elections were described as “democratic.”

Decades on, America’s Democrats have clearly borrowed a page from this Soviet playbook.

Although the U.S. is far from communist, the similarities cannot be ignored.

Harris was the only candidate on the Democratic ballot and the DNC restricted delegates from considering other candidates or submitting write-ins.

Harris also has a penchant for Soviet-era governing styles – what with her beliefs that “capitalism isn’t working for everyone” and plans for centralized commodity pricing structures.

Once Biden was sent packing, there were no debates to choose his successors, no primaries or actual voters involved.

All the while, the Pravda-like U.S. media could hardly contain its celebratory ecstasy at Harris’ coronation. Joseph Stalin would be proud.

Biden’s abrupt withdrawal from the race, also smacks of Soviet-style electioneering.

Much like in 1964 – when Khrushchev was replaced by his former protégé Brezhnev following the former’s disastrous handling of the Cuban Missile Crisis.

Much like with Harris, Vladimir Putin’s rise to power was sudden and unforeseeable.

In 1999, then-Russian President Boris Yeltsin resigned unexpectedly on New Year’s Eve, appointing his prime minister, Putin, as acting president.

By resigning, Yeltsin effectively rigged the subsequent 2000 presidential election in Putin’s favor by granting him the advantage of incumbency.

Yeltsin admitted to his trick to former President Bill Clinton – with whom he had a chummy relationship – in a phone call placed on the evening of his resignation, according to recently declassified White House transcripts.

“I have given him [Putin] three months, three months according to the constitution, to work as [acting] president, and people will get used to him for these three months. I am sure that he will be elected,” said Yeltsin to Clinton.

The DNC Convention itself reminded me of the Congresses held by the Soviet Communist Party of the every five years and widely televised on each of the two state television channels.

During the Congress, geriatric Politburo members spoke fiercely about progressive democratic policies pursued by the USSR and the oppressive policies of the USA.

They praised Soviet socialism and denigrated America’s capitalism despite the fact that ordinary Russians, visiting a grocery store, often found empty shelves.

Similarly, in Chicago this past week, the DNC Bolsheviks – Barack Obama , Bill Clinton and Nancy Pelosi – were pushing the exuberant message of DNC “joy” vs. GOP “anger” as anti-Israel protestors created mayhem outside.

A 76-year-old Clinton accused Trump of creating “chaos,” even as crime skyrockets across American cities overwhelmed by the illegal immigration brought to them by Biden and Harris.

Oprah Winfrey on Wednesday, urged voters to “choose common sense over nonsense” – as though it it Republicans, rather than Democrats, claim that transgender children can identify as “minotaurs” or “Tootsie Roll pops.”

Soviet-style “show” elections are not just limited to the Democrats these days.

They’re also a staple of third-world dictatorships, such as Iran and Venezuela.

In July, for instance, Iran held a so-called presidential election following the death of Ebrahim Raisi in May.

A 60-year-old reformist lawmaker Masoud Pezeshkian won against the hardline Saeed Jalili, having promised to improve relations with the West.

But the only vote that really mattered was that of the Supreme Leader Ayatollay Ali Kamenei. Which is why the true reform is highly unlikely.

Meanwhile, Venezuela remains engulfed in massive protests following its own disputed election last month.

Incumbent President Nicolas Maduro refuses to cede power to opposition leader (Edmundo Gonzalez Urrutia), who international observers say won two-thirds of the vote. The Venezuelan Supreme Court is officially “auditing” the tally.

But like Iran’s Khamenei and the apparatchiks of my Soviet youth, only one candidate had a chance here – Nicolas Maduro.

Seems Harris and her DNC proxies may have been taking notes.

As November edges closer, the display between Biden and Harris is bearing the hallmarks of an emerging totalitarian state. Is this what America is moving toward? The DNC Convention suggests that we are.

An article by Ben Shapiro titled “Hiding Harris” was posted at townhall.com on Aug. 28, 2024. Following are excerpts of the article.

To call the last eight weeks in presidential politics unprecedented would be a wild understatement.

- It was just over two months ago when Joe Biden – a man deemed highly successful and mentally sharp by our legacy media – took to the stage to debate Donald Trump, and promptly expired.
- It took another month for Biden to drop out of the race, prompted by the backstabbing Democratic cadre of former House Speaker Nancy Pelosi, Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer and, most importantly, former President Barack Obama – all of whom wheedled donors and cudged Biden into submission.
- It then took promptly one day to solidify Vice President Kamala Harris in Biden’s stead.
- It has been more than a month since Biden was defenestrated in favor of Harris.
- Since then, Harris has answered precisely zero difficult questions from the media.

And yet there are less than 70 days to the election. Republics are predicated on the idea that the voters deserve to know something about the candidates for whom they vote.

But voters have been shielded from Harris.

According to the legacy media, her 2019 presidential campaign policy positions are completely irrelevant.

- She has now sent out surrogates to disown her own positions.
- Decriminalizing border crossings – she was in favor.
- Electric vehicle mandates – she was in favor.
- Private health insurance – she was against.
- “Re-imagining public safety” or defunding the police – she was in favor.
- Fracking – she was against.

All of that in the last month alone.

The media apparently have zero questions.

Meanwhile, we’ve been told that she’s not even tied to the administration in which she is currently the vice president.

This week, Politico headlined: “Vance tries to tether Harris to Biden during Michigan rally.” Tries to? She’s the sitting vice president! Her boss – the same person she shivved to steal his nomination – is currently still the president.

Sam Stein of The Bulwark and MSNBC headlined: “Dems spent four days in Chicago castigating, belittling, and demonizing Donald Trump. And then they did something even more vicious – They turned him into the incumbent.” Trump the incumbent? She’s the sitting vice president of the United States!

All of this is why Harris must scrutiny.

This entire charade smacks of disdain for the American people.

- Rig the nomination process in favor of Biden.
- Throw Biden off a cliff in favor of Kamala.
- Hide Kamala behind an Instagram filter while she dances and calls herself Momala for the duration of the campaign.
- At no point do Democrats want Americans to understand just what Kamala Harris will do as president, or to connect her to what she’s already done as vice president.

Perhaps it will work. If so, Americans will only have proved H.L. Menchen’s cynical theory: “Democracy is the theory that the common people know what they want, and deserve to get it good and hard.”

1. You have voice support for decriminalizing illegal border crossings, and providing taxpayer-funded healthcare plans to illegal immigrants. How do those positions align with your new campaign ads portraying you as tough on the border and illegal immigration, given the incentives those policies would create?
 2. As a co-sponsor of Bernie Sanders’ legislation, you are an outspoken supporter of “Medicare for All” – which would end private health insurance, directly impacting an estimated 177 million Americans. On this network, you said the country should “eliminate” private health insurance and “move on.” How would you pay for the estimated $3.2 trillion annual price tag, and why should Americans who are satisfied with their existing plans and arrangements have to forfeit them?

3. [If Harris confirms her campaign's rumors that she no longer holds her position on this] When and why did you decide Medicare for All (a centerpiece of your own presidential campaign) was unworthy of your continued support?

4. Energy independence and affordability is a major issue for many Americans, especially in states like Pennsylvania. You've repeatedly and emphatically promised to ban fracking if elected president. On this network, you described the practice as having an "enormous" negative impact on the "health and safety of communities." Your campaign now says you no longer hold that view. When and why did you decide fracking is safe, and that you no longer want to ban it?

5. In that same CNN forum, you said you support banning plastic straws, and using government guidance to discourage red meat consumption. Are those still your views?

6. You have stated that so-called "Bidenomics" has been a success, and that you and President Biden are "very proud" of Bidenomics. President Biden is 20 points underwater on economic approval. Do you still believe Bidenomics has been a success?

7. One of the accomplishments highlighted at the DNC was your tie-breaking votes in the Senate, as Vice President. One of the most consequential of those votes guaranteed passage of a nearly $2 trillion spending plan, along party lines, that even economists like Obama Treasury Secretary Larry Summers warned would fuel inflation. Inflation raced up, and even though the rate of inflation has come down since, average prices are still 20 percent higher across the board than they were when you and President Biden took office. You claimed at the time your vote would reduce prices, which has not happened. Why should voters believe your new assurances that you will reduce prices?

8. You said you were the last person in the room advising President Biden on the Afghanistan withdrawal. You supported that policy. He has called it an "extraordinary success." Do you agree? Have you spoken to any of the families of the 13 Americans killed in the Abbey Gate attack three years ago this week?

9. As the Biden administration's point person on the root causes of the illegal immigration crisis (which some have termed a "Border Czar" role), ten million border crossings have occurred on your watch – including millions stemming from the handful of countries on which your portfolio was particularly focused. Do you believe your administration's border and immigration policies have been successful?

10. Tragically, some of the illegal migrants who have entered the country during your administration have committed violent crimes. As a former prosecutor, you've talked about speaking on behalf of victims, and representing the people. Have you spoken with the families of any of these victims? Are you familiar with any of their names?

11. When the largest city in Governor Walz's state [Minnesota] was being burned and looted by rioters in 2020, you urged your supporters to bail rioters out of jail, and linked to a bail fund on your Twitter page. Was that the sort of leadership that moment required?

12. Do you still support the Green New Deal legislation you endorsed and co-sponsored?

13. Please explain your new anti-price-gouging proposal. How, specifically, does it differ from price controls? Are grocery chains with 1-2 percent profit margins "price gouging?"

14. President Biden recently stated that "yes, yes, yes" the Biden-Harris administration has beaten inflation. Do you agree?

- I could go on, but that's at least a start. Here are a few for Tim Walz (although I think Bash should focus overwhelmingly on Harris.)

15. What was your official rank at retirement from the Minnesota National Guard? If that rank differs from what has been listed in your various biographies over the years, why would you persist with that inaccuracy, even after people with whom you served (up and down the chain of command) drew this discrepancy to your attention, both publicly and privately?

16. Did you ever "carry a weapon in war" – (as you claimed in a statement about Second Amendment restrictions)?

17. One of your common refrains on the campaign trail is that a golden rule within your worldview is to "mind your own damn business." Critics have noted that your administration set up a state system to report on neighbors for violating your Covid-era restrictions and orders. You also endorsed a state registry system for so-called "hate speech." How do you square those policies with the "mind your own business" ethos?

18. You signed legislation providing healthcare, in-state tuition, and drivers licenses to illegal immigrants, whom your administration called "new Americans." Are those rewards for violating our country's immigration laws?

19. In your 2006 Congressional race, your campaign made multiple false statements about a previous DUI. Do you acknowledge that you were driving drunk while going 96 mph, that you did not drive yourself to the police station, and that your failed field sobriety test was not the result of a hearing issue? Do you regret those actions, or your campaign's characterizations of them? Your campaign contradicted the official record on all of that, as subsequently confirmed by CNN, at the time.

20. Is it a "pro-choice" policy to repeal existing laws against coercing women into abortions, as you did as governor of Minnesota? Is there any restriction on abortion that is appropriate, in your mind?

Isaiah 55:6-11—“Seek you the Lord while He may be found, call upon Him while He is near. Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; let him return to the Lord, and He will have mercy on him; and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon. ‘For My thoughts are not your thoughts, nor are your ways My ways,’ says the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than your ways, and My thoughts than your thoughts. For as the rain comes down, and the snow from heaven, and do not return there, but water the earth, and make it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower and bread to the eater, so shall My word by that goes forth from My mouth; it shall not return to Me void, but it shall accomplish what I please, and it shall prosper in the thing for which I sent it.”
