Luke 21:34-36—“But take heed to yourselves, lest your souls be weighed down with self-indulgence, and drunkenness, or the anxieties of this life, and that day come on you suddenly, like a falling trap; for it will come on all dwellers on the face of the whole earth. But beware of slumbering; and every moment pray that you may be fully strengthened to escape from all these coming evils, and to take your stand in the presence of the Son of Man” (Weymouth New Testament).

An article by Simone McCarthy titled “North Korea, Russia and China Watch On as Crisis Unfolds in Key U.S. Ally South Korea” was posted at cnn.com on Dec. 4, 2024. Following are excerpts of the article.

A night of political upheaval in South Korea has upended stability in a key democratic U.S. ally – sending shock waves through the region and Washington at a moment of acute global tension.

South Korean President Yoon Suk Yeol declared martial law on Tuesday night in a surprise decree that was reversed hours later following overwhelming opposition across the political spectrum for what was widely seen as a breach of the country’s vibrant democracy.

The move, which Yoon claimed was necessary to “save the country against anti-state forces” trying to destroy the “constitutional order of liberal democracy,” was met by protests in Seoul and mounting calls for the president’s resignation.

The stunning development appeared to catch Washington off guard. That’s an unnerving reality for the United States military, which has nearly 30,000 troops and its largest overseas base in South Korea – serving as a check against a belligerent North Korea and counterweight to an aggressive China in a strategically critical region.

The political turmoil also raises a potential opening for Kim Jong Un to capitalize on the chaos.

“We should not be surprised if Pyongyang exploits the domestic crisis in South Korea to its advantage, either rhetorically or otherwise,” said Edward Howell, a lecturer in politics at the University of Oxford in the United Kingdom, who focuses on the Korean Peninsula.

The developments – and the potential, now, for a change of leadership in South Korea – are also likely being closely watched by Beijing and Moscow (who both deeply oppose U.S. military presence in Asia).

An article by Matthew Boyle titled “Information Warfare: As Biden Pardons Criminal Son, Establishment Media Targets Trump Picks Instead” was posted at breitbart.com on Dec. 2, 2024. Following are excerpts of the article.

The establishment media are at it again, now openly attacking President-elect Donald Trump’s cabinet picks with salacious and unverified misinformation in an apparent campaign they are waging to try to sink the president-elect’s incoming administration.

Meanwhile, the sitting and outgoing President of the United States (Joe Biden) just issued what amounts to one of the most controversial pardons in American history on Sunday evening when he pardoned his son (Hunter Biden). Biden’s complete and unconditional pardon of his son spans more than a decade and is more expansive than Gerald Ford’s pardon of Richard Nixon after the Watergate scandal.

Yet again, what are the establishment media focused on?

- Well, the supposedly respected and revered New York Times and New Yorker are leading a campaign to try to tank Pete Hegseth’s appointment by Trump to be the Secretary of Defense in his incoming administration.

- CNN’s deep state stooges are going ballistic over attorney Kash Patel, Trump’s pick to run the FBI.
- Others are attacking his nominee for Director of National Intelligence (former Democratic Rep. Tulsi Gabbard left the party and joined the GOP this year when she endorsed Trump) – over nonsensical claims that she is somehow a Russian agent.

Obviously all of these smears are dubious at best. Frankly, many of them are being spread by the very same people who spread fake attacks repeatedly on Trump for a decade and who covered for the deep state.

- This decision by Biden to pardon his son is both shockingly egregious and completely unsurprising. Of course, in hindsight, the president was without question going to do this.
- And of course he, the White House, and the Democrats were going to absolutely lie about it until he did.

An article by Harold Hutchison titled “ ‘You Can’t Say You Weren’t Warned’: Five Times CNN’s Harry Enten Was Right About the Election [Giving Positive Reports About Trump’s Chances]” was posted at dailycaller.com on Nov. 30, 2024. Following are excerpts of the article.

1. August 13 – Enten told CNN viewers Trump is “very much in this ball game.”
 2. September 24 – Enten noted Kamala Harris’ support among certain demographics was lower than Biden’s in 2020.
 3. October 14 – Enten said Harris lags behind Clinton (2016) and Biden (2020) in the rust belt – specifically Michigan, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.
 4. October 17 – Enten outlined Trump’s ‘very strong position’ in Wisconsin.
 5. October 25 – Enten said Trump could win the popular vote.

An article by Max Burns titled “Democrats Are Checking Out After Their Drubbing – Here’s How They Can Re-Engage” was posted at thehill.com on Dec. 4, 2024. Following are excerpts of the article.

Democrats are tuning away from news networks and social media platforms in numbers that are impossible to ignore. MSNBC and CNN saw their rating slashed in half as exhausted Democrats tuned out post-election. On Twitter (now X, after its acquisition by Elon Musk), lefty users have deserted the platform in droves in favor of competitor Bluesky.

Print outlets are faring even worse, with furious Democrats still canceling their Washington Post subscriptions nearly a month after owner Jeff Bezos spiked the paper's endorsement of Kamala Harris. One in 10 Washington Post subscribers have quit the paper since October, blowing a sizable hole in the paper's already threadbare earnings.

That raises an existential question for media outlets and for Democrats: Where will all those disillusioned eyes go?

The Democratic Party has been greatly harmed by its generational transformation from a labor-first party of the working class into a D.C.-based entity that spends most of its time courting wealthy Silicon Valley megadonors. That shift has left many traditional Democratic voters feeling unrepresented, while at the same time turning the party's messaging into something more at home in an HR meeting than on the campaign trail.

If Democrats want to persuade investors to back left-of-center media networks, they'll first need to show their own support by financing those operations internally. That means redirecting the flood of DNC cash currently feeding the Beltway consultant class and making real investments in media talent – with an emphasis on YouTube and podcasting instead of traditional, talking-head media.

Democrats were once masters of the populist message. If they want to rebuild after last month's electoral disaster, they'll need to reconnect with that part of their political psyche – fast.

Isaiah 55:6-11—“Seek you the Lord while He may be found, call upon Him while He is near. Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; let him return to the Lord, and He will have mercy on him; and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon. ‘For My thoughts are not your thoughts, nor are your ways My ways,’ says the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than your ways, and My thoughts than your thoughts. For as the rain comes down, and the snow from heaven, and do not return there, but water the earth, and make it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower and bread to the eater, so shall My word by that goes forth from My mouth; it shall not return to Me void, but it shall accomplish what I please, and it shall prosper in the thing for which I sent it.”
