Luke 21:34-36—“But take heed to yourselves, lest your souls be weighed down with self-indulgence, and drunkenness, or the anxieties of this life, and that day come on you suddenly, like a falling trap; for it will come on all dwellers on the face of the whole earth. But beware of slumbering; and every moment pray that you may be fully strengthened to escape from all these coming evils, and to take your stand in the presence of the Son of Man” (Weymouth New Testament).

An article by Miranda Devine titled “Zelensky Was the True Instigator of the Oval Office Fracas – Not an ‘Ambush’ From Trump” was posted at nypost.com on March 2, 2025. Following is the article.

Anybody who watched the entire Oval Office meeting between President Trump and Ukraine President Volodymyr Zelensky would know that it was not an “ambush” or a “setup” by Trump, as characterized by Democrats and malign media entitles.

It was the opposite. If anyone came to that meeting in bad faith, it was clearly Zelensky, whose body language and attitude was negative from the start. Trump could not have been more cordial, having steered the complex negotiations with Russia and Ukraine to a first step where he believed peace was a real possibility.

But Zelensky had other ideas. He contradicted, interrupted and insulted Trump, even before Vice President JD Vance said a word.

It was 11 minutes in when Zelensky first contradicted Trump with a gratuitous defense of Europe’s financial support for the war, which Trump repeatedly has said was less than America’s.

Zelensky said: “President Trump said that they made less support, but they are our friends and they are our very supportive partners. They really gave a lot, Mr. President.”

Trump responded: “They gave a lot, but they gave much less.”

Zelensky said: “No.”

Trump said: “Much less.”

Zelensky repeated: Nooooo, no.”

Trump smiled and flicked him jokingly to make the exchange look like light-hearted banter.

“Okay,” said Trump, ending it.

“Okay,” said Zelensky smirking.

As Treasury Secretary Scott Bessent said later, if Zelensky wanted to contradict Trump, “the proper venue for that would have been 15 minutes later [when] we were going to walk into the White House dining room and have lunch, just 16 of us. I actually think he was always going to do this and I think he was surprised by the forceful reaction he got back.”

At the end of the meeting, when he’d blown up the whole deal, Zelensky smirked and gave the thumbs up to someone off camera among the press pack.

Never mind that his ambassador was sitting a few feet away watching the debacle unfold with her head in her hands.

There is not excuse to misconstrue who was to blame for blowing up the meeting and jeopardizing the peace deal because it all played out live on camera for almost an hour.

But misconstrue it bad people did, and for base political motivations, skewed by a good dose of Trump Derangement Syndrome.

Zelensky himself seems to suffer from the affliction, and his inability to understand the situation he was in should disqualify him from leading Ukraine in the future. That, of course, is up to the Ukrainian people, or perhaps their generals – although since two-thirds of Ukraine’s media outlets have received some (if not most) of their funding from USAID, it’s likely Ukrainians have never received the unvarnished truth about their wartime president, an actor who co-plays as a soldier.

Now Trump’s creative “Art of the Deal” effort to end the war lies in tatters, just as his enemies here and abroad wanted. They could not tolerate that Trump, who thumbed his nose at all their sacred cows, would be successful in ending the war. If Trump succeeded, it would expose warmongers on both sides of Congress and in Europe as incompetent or far worse.

So Trump’s enemies are using the million dead souls of the Ukraine war to spawn a new Russia, Russia, Russia hoax – their fourth by my count.

- First, there was the fake Steele dossier, which spawned the Mueller investigation, which eventually cleared Trump, but crippled his first presidency.

- Next, Trump was impeached for asking Zelensky on a 2019 phone call to look into Joe Biden and his crackhead son Hunter's role with Burisma (a Ukrainian energy company that began paying Hunter a million dollars a year from April 2014, after the Maiden revolution installed a US-vassal regime, answerable to then-VP Biden).
- Third was the "Laptop From Hell" saga in October 2020, when the "Dirty 51" intelligence officials lied that Hunter's abandoned laptop was Russian disinformation and the FBI pre-bunked the story to social media companies as a Russian "hack and leak operation" so that the New York Post was censored by Facebook and Twitter when it published evidence from the laptop incriminating Joe Biden in Hunter's international influence-peddling schemes, including in Ukraine.

So intertwined is the laptop and Biden corruption with the current mess in Ukraine that Trump brought it up in the contentious Oval Office meeting with Zelensky on Friday.

Trump said: "It came out of Hunter Biden's bathroom. It came out of Hunter Biden's bedroom. It was disgusting. And then they said, oh, oh, the 'laptop from hell' was made by Russia. The 51 agents. The whole thing was a scam."

Trump raised the laptop in the context of all the Russia witch hunts that recklessly heightened tensions with Putin.

Trump said: "Let me tell you, Putin went through a hell of a lot with me . . . That was a phony Hunter Biden, Joe Biden scam. Hillary Clinton, shifty Adam Schiff. It was a Democrat scam. And Putin had to go through that [but] we didn't end up in a war. All I can say is this: He might have broken deals with Obama and Bush, and he might have broken them with Biden . . . I don't know what happened, but he didn't break them with me. He wants to make a deal."

In response to a reporter's question suggesting he was "aligned with Putin," Trump replied: "I'm not aligned with Putin . . . I'm aligned with the United States of America, and for the good of the world . . . You want me to say really terrible things about Putin and then say, 'Hi, Vladimir. How are we doing on the deal?' It doesn't work that way."

Zelensky kept needling, refusing to look at Trump as he spoke, in contrast to Trump's rapt attention to him. He ruled out a cease-fire, lectured Trump on history and "the rule of war" and was increasingly disrespectful and argumentative while Trump remained polite.

At 23 minutes in, Zelensky was ranting about how many agreements Putin had broken. Trump interjected: "He never broke [his word] to me," something Bill Clinton also once said.

Zelensky rudely contradicted him: "No, no, you were president, you were the president . . . In 2016, you were the president. You've been the president, Mr. President. You've been the president."

Then Zelensky described the minerals deal he was there to sign as “2%,” after Trump had earlier described it as “98” of the pathway to peace.

At 31 minutes, Zelensky said: “You have big, nice ocean, between us, but if we will not stay [fighting], Russia will go further to Baltics and to Poland. It’s a fact, and [then] you will fight, your American soldiers. It doesn’t matter, do you have ocean, or not, your soldiers will fight.”

This was a severe provocation and yet Trump kept his cool.

It was another seven minutes before Vance piped up. He was sitting opposite Zelensky and had a better view of his insolent body language than Trump.

Even then, Vance was measured: “The path to peace and the path to prosperity is maybe engaging in diplomacy. What makes America a good country is America engaging in diplomacy. That’s what President Trump is doing.”

That set Zelensky off and his rudeness finally demanded a response from Trump.

“We’re trying to solve a problem. Don’t tell us what we’re going to feel, because you’re in no position to dictate that.”

Zelensky ambushed Trump. He just got more than he bargained for. Now it’s up to Europe at its summit on Thursday to make Ukraine see reason, because the country can’t survive without America.

An article by Michael Goodwin titled “Disaster in the Oval Office: Democrats Lead Zelensky, Ukraine Off a Cliff With Pressure to Reject Mineral Deal” was posted at nytopost.com on March 1, 2025. Following are excerpts of the article.

A common criticism of Volodymyr Zelensky’s disastrous Friday performance in the Oval Office is that he failed to read the room. Actually, the Ukrainian president did read a room – but it was the wrong room.

Before meeting President Trump, Zelensky met with anti-Trump Democrats who advised him to reject the terms of the mineral deal with the president was offering, according to Senator Chris Murphy (D-Conn.).

Murphy posted on X at 11:15 a.m. Friday: “Just finished a meeting with President Zelensky here in Washington. He confirmed that the Ukrainian people will not support a fake peace agreement where Putin gets everything he wants and there are no security arrangements for Ukraine.”

The earlier meeting with Democrats undercuts wild claims that Trump and Vice President JD Vance staged an ambush. In fact, it was Zelensky who came with an ulterior motive.

By listening to the nakedly partisan advice of Democrats instead of dealing forthrightly with the current president, Zelensky betrayed his countrymen and, for now at least, leaves them without the military and diplomatic protection that only America can provide.

In a perverse way, Murphy and other Democrats got the outcome they wanted. The fireworks at the White House gave them an excuse to replay their Russia Russia Russia hoax.

Once again, they and their media handmaidens are dishonestly insisting that Trump is in Vladimir Putin's camp.

Like the original Russia hoax that consumed much of Trump's first term, Russia 2.0 is born of political desperation. After months of not knowing how to respond to Trump's fast, populist start to his second term, Democrats up and down the food chain decided that the president's refusal to write a blank check to Zelensky and pledge a military guarantee amounts to a gift to Putin.

It's a mark of their bad judgment that Zelensky is their new hero. He and they have zero chance of persuading tapped-out Americans that an open-ended commitment of their tax dollars and possibly sending troops to Ukraine is sensible.

Despite the fact that the president made foolish comments two weeks ago suggesting Ukraine started the war, I am convinced Trump truly wants peace. He is not afraid to use the military, but he is not a warmonger.

To that end, he and his White House came up with the minerals plan that he called a first step to a cease-fire.

Zelensky is right that Putin can't be trusted, but he's a fool for rejecting Trump's plan and counting on Europe and feckless Democrats to help him get a better deal from Trump. What a tragic mistake.

Trump speech – Politico early reporting

- A report by Nicholas Wu was posted at politico.com on March 4, 2025. He wrote: “Several Dozen House Democrats are holding up small circular signs during the joint address in protest, reading ‘Musk Steals,’ ‘Save Medicaid’ and ‘Protect Veterans.’ The signs were distributed by the Congressional Progressive Caucus, according to a person with knowledge of the strategy, with the messages intended to keep the focus on Trump’s policies. House Democratic leadership had stressed to lawmakers to present a solemn response to Trump rather than taking the bait. Lawmakers have mostly responded by silently waving the signs at Trump and Republicans during the speech.”
- A report by Nicholas Wu was posted at politico.com on March 4, 2025. He wrote: “Several House Democrats just walked out in protest. Rep. Maxwell Frost (D-Fla.) was among the lawmakers who stood up, turned away from Trump and revealed shirts that said ‘resist’ on their backs before leaving. Republicans including Rep. Anna Paulina Luna of Florida were quick to jump up and claim the seats vacated by some of the Democrats who had been seated in the center aisle.”

Looking back to July 2024, an article by Laura Hollis titled “The Deceived vs. the Indoctrinated” was posted at townhall.com on July 25, 2024. Following are excerpts of the article.

The American public has been subjected to massive propaganda efforts by both our government and our media for years. It’s important to understand the impact this has on the current presidential campaign [that occurred on November xx, 2024].

That starts with understanding the difference between deception and indoctrination.

- Those who have been merely deceived may be surprised when the deception is exposed. They may even be angry. But they will change their positions when confronted with facts that contradict them.
- The indoctrinated will not.

The Oxford English Dictionary defines “indoctrination” as “accepting a set of beliefs without question, refusing to consider any others.”

For the indoctrinated, those beliefs become part of their identity; they will not let go of them, even when faced with contrary evidence or explicit falsehoods.

Millions of Americans have been propagandized to believe that former President Donald Trump is “literally Hitler” and “a threat to our democracy” – that he will “destroy this country” or “start World War III.”

You can provide all the proof to the contrary you want; it will not change their minds.

I’ve had conversations with friends and loved ones who profess to be terrified about the possible perils of another Trump presidency. To those, I point out just some of the actual conduct of the Biden administration.

- Imprisoning Americans and depriving them of their constitutional rights to due process
- Collaborating with Big Tech companies to censor truthful information
- Fabricating allegations of Trumps “collusion” with Russia in the 2016 election
- Lying to a federal court to obtain illegal surveillance warrants
- Spending upwards of $35 million to “investigate” allegations they knew were false
- Calling sexually explicit and criminal content on Hunter Biden’s laptop “disinformation”
- Keeping truthful Hunter Biden information from the American people to impact election
- Prosecuting Trump for possession of allegedly classified documents – but not Biden
- Weaponizing the legal system against the administration’s political opponents
- Preventing election laws that protect the integrity of the election process
- Butchering the withdrawal from Afghanistan and leaving thousands of Americans behind
- Leaving billions of dollars in military material and ammunition left for the Taliban
- Two major wars and $175 billion in taxpayer dollars given to Ukraine
- Allowing approximately 10 million migrants to cross the border illegally in 3½ years
- Chocking off our own energy production, sending the cost of fuel skyrocketing
- Creating the worst inflation we’ve had in more than 40 years

It doesn’t matter. When people ignore such facts, that’s indoctrination.

Here are some current events in the last three week. [Remember, this article was written on July 25, 2024.)

1. Biden’s disastrous performance at the first presidential debate on June 27 exposed the ugly reality that their own party and the press had been lying about the president’s declining mental faculties for years.

It didn’t matter.

2. Despite Biden’s adamant insistence that he was staying in the race, the Democratic Party force him out in a de facto palace coup, had him issue a bland statement on X/Twitter and kept him seclusion for almost a week.

It didn’t matter.

3. They just unilaterally substituted a new presidential candidate (Vice President Kamala Harris) without any participation by the party’s voters at all.

Did anyone complain? Black Lives Matter and some donors did. But none of this seems to matter to Democrat voters. Kamala Harris is already on the stump, and we’re being treated to glowing press coverage featuring cheering crowds and puff pieces promoting the many “firsts” associated with her impending victory.

- The first woman president
- The first Indian American president

- The first Jamaican American president
- The first African American president – (okay, Jamaica is not in Africa – but that doesn’t matter either)

Republicans need to understand that they are dealing with a population in which a substantial number are completely unreachable, even by the most unassailable arguments.

- The focus of Trump’s campaign must not be on irrelevancies like Harris’ former love life or her lack of children.
- The focus must be on her lack of qualifications, her incompetence and the disastrous policies she favors.
- The proof of that – at least for those who aren’t indoctrinated – is ample.

Isaiah 55:6-11—“Seek you the Lord while He may be found, call upon Him while He is near. Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; let him return to the Lord, and He will have mercy on him; and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon. ‘For My thoughts are not your thoughts, nor are your ways My ways,’ says the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than your ways, and My thoughts than your thoughts. For as the rain comes down, and the snow from heaven, and do not return there, but water the earth, and make it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower and bread to the eater, so shall My word by that goes forth from My mouth; it shall not return to Me void, but it shall accomplish what I please, and it shall prosper in the thing for which I sent it.”
