Luke 21:34-36—“But take heed to yourselves, lest your souls be weighed down with self-indulgence, and drunkenness, or the anxieties of this life, and that day come on you suddenly, like a falling trap; for it will come on all dwellers on the face of the whole earth. But beware of slumbering; and every moment pray that you may be fully strengthened to escape from all these coming evils, and to take your stand in the presence of the Son of Man” (Weymouth New Testament).

(Antoni said: There is a right way to do tariffs and a wrong way to do tariffs. What we saw during the first Trump administration was the right way to do tariffs. Tariffs were also done correctly during the William McKinley administration, 25th president, and tariffs were done incredibly poorly during the Herbert Hoover administration, 31st president. It can be done right. It can be done wrong. It is not a panacea. This administration is correctly using a carrot and stick approach.)

An article by EJ Antoni titled “Trump Speech Lays Out Roadmap to Prosperity” was posted at heritage.org on March 10, 2025. Following is the article.

Key Takeaways

1. To help end the current cost-of-living crisis, Mr. Trump is clearing the way for a surge in domestic energy production.
2. Additionally, Mr. Trump has pledged to cut burdensome regulations, slashing red tape to allow businesses legitimate room to thrive and employ more Americans.
3. Mr. Trump’s political capital may be sufficient to carry the day without any Democratic support, and that’s another reason to be hopeful.

In his speech to Congress on Tuesday [March 4] night, President Trump presented America with a roadmap to prosperity. He managed to walk a tightrope on economic issues, simultaneously acknowledging the financial pain of families today while also delivering a hopeful message that “America is back” and on her way to a new golden age.

For four years, the White House and its media apparatchiks papered over the devastating effects of sharp rises in prices and interest rates. We were told to ignore our lying eyes and empty wallets, and to believe that Joseph R. Biden’s economy was nothing short of miraculous. The truth was just the opposite.

While the government spent, borrowed, and created money to boost various statistics like non-farm payrolls, gross domestic product, or equity prices, inflation ravaged family finances and the American dream of owning a home became unattainable. According to the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, home ownership affordability hit a record low in Mr. Biden's last month as president.

After four years of gaslighting, last night's economic candor from Mr. Trump was refreshing, as he acknowledged the reality of the problems created by the radical left. Even better, though, was the fact that he laid out a plan to get America out of her economic doldrums, reinvigorate the middle class, and return to dominance on the world stage.

To help end the current cost-of-living crisis, Mr. Trump is clearing the way for a surge in domestic energy production. While the Biden administration notoriously denied either permits or leases, while throwing up other regulatory red tape in the way of energy producers, Mr. Trump is fast-tracking new sources of reliable American energy.

Because energy is an input for every single product and service in the entire economy, reducing the cost of so ubiquitous an input will bring prices down everywhere, and increasing the supply of energy is exactly the right catalyst to reduce energy prices. That's Economics 101.

But we forget that many products today are made directly from energy sources, like how natural gas is used to make synthetic fertilizer. By increasing natural gas production, Mr. Trump will reduce its price and bring down the price of fertilizer, which is one of the costly components in food production. Thus, ramping up American energy production will result in even lower prices for consumers.

But taxpayers need additional relief, having suffered the equivalent of nearly a $5 trillion tax hike from inflation. That's why Mr. Trump has not only asked Congress to make the 2017 tax reform permanent, but to go even further and provide additional relief for all taxpayers, in all income brackets.

Along with this call for lower taxes, Mr. Trump also reiterated his pledge for less government spending. He highlighted many examples of how the Department of Government Efficiency under Elon Musk has already saved taxpayers billions of dollars. But he intends to go much further.

He called on Congress to cut spending enough so that the federal government would have a balanced budget for the first time in three decades. Since government spending is the ultimate cause of nearly all our economic ills today – like high prices and high interest rates – drastic reductions in government spending would be like putting the private economy into overdrive.

Additionally, Mr. Trump has pledged to cut burdensome regulations, slashing red tape to allow businesses legitimate room to thrive and employ more Americans. For every new regulation proposed, Mr. Trump promises to cut 10. That's refreshing change after the Biden administration cost the average family thousands of dollars in regulatory costs.

Reducing taxes and regulations are part of the carrot-and-stick approach that Mr. Trump intends to use to bring production and jobs back to America. The stick is tariffs.

Mr. Trump recognizes that tariffs can accomplish many goals at once.

- They are a bargaining chip.
- They raise revenue for the government.
- They shift some of the tax burden onto other nations.
- They provide an incentive to make things in America and employ Americans.

Mr. Trump is masterfully wielding the American consumer's purchasing power like a weapon on the world stage, making other nations reduce their own tariff and non-tariff barriers. If our markets are open to foreign producers, then their markets should be open to our exporters too – that's truly free trade.

Additionally, Mr. Trump is forcing concessions from Mexico and Canada to stop the flow of deadly drugs like fentanyl into America. In that sense, it's less of a trade war than a drug war.

While Democrats refused to stand or clap for such a roadmap to prosperity, including over $1 trillion of investment in America secured in less than two months, they cheered for billions of dollars wasted in the Ukraine on a forever war.

Nevertheless, Mr. Trump's political capital may be sufficient to carry the day without any Democratic support, and that's another reason to be hopeful about America's second golden age.

A report titled "Full-Page Ad [Published in The New York Times, The Washington Post and The Boston Globe]: Donald Trump Letter on Foreign Policy – September 2, 1987" has been posted at rollcall.com. Following is the content of the paid advertisement..

Headline – There's nothing wrong with America's Foreign Defense Policy that a little backbone can't cure.

Sub-Headline – An open letter from Donald J. Trump on why America should stop paying to defend countries that can afford to defend themselves.

To the American People:

For decades, Japan and other nations have been taking advantage of the United States. The saga continues unabated as we defend the Persian Gulf, an area of only marginal significance to the United States for its oil supplies, but one upon which Japan and others are almost totally dependent. Why are these nations not paying the United States for the human lives and billions of dollars we are losing to protect their interests?

Saudi Arabia, a country whose very existence is in the hands of the United States, last week refused to allow us to use their mine sweepers (which are, sadly, far more advanced than ours) to police the Gulf. The world is laughing at America's politicians as we protect ships we don't own, carrying oil we don't need, destined for allies who won't help.

Over the years, the Japanese, unimpeded by the huge costs of defending themselves (as long as the United States will do it for free), have built a strong and vibrant economy with unprecedented surpluses. They have brilliantly managed to maintain a weak yen against a strong dollar. This, coupled with our monumental spending for their, and others, defense, has moved Japan to the forefront of world economies.

Now that the tides are turning and the yen is becoming strong against the dollar, the Japanese are openly complaining and, in typical fashion, our politicians are reacting to these unjustified complaints.

It's time for us to end our vast deficits by making Japan, and others who can afford it, pay. Our world protection is worth hundreds of billions of dollars to these countries, and their stake in their protection is far greater than ours.

Make Japan, Saudi Arabia, and others pay for the protection we extend as allies. Let's help our farmers, our sick, our homeless by taking some of the greatest profit machines ever created – machines created and nurtured by us.

“Tax” these wealthy nations, not America. End our huge deficits, reduce our taxes and let America's economy grow unencumbered by the cost of defending those who can easily afford to pay us for the defense of their freedom. Let's not let our great country be laughed at anymore.

Sincerely,

Donald J. Trump

  6. Have your last meal at least two hours before bed.
  7. Relax and unwind.

Isaiah 55:6-11—“Seek you the Lord while He may be found, call upon Him while He is near. Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; let him return to the Lord, and He will have mercy on him; and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon. ‘For My thoughts are not your thoughts, nor are your ways My ways,’ says the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than your ways, and My thoughts than your thoughts. For as the rain comes down, and the snow from heaven, and do not return there, but water the earth, and make it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower and bread to the eater, so shall My word by that goes forth from My mouth; it shall not return to Me void, but it shall accomplish what I please, and it shall prosper in the thing for which I sent it.”
