Luke 21:34-36—“But take heed to yourselves, lest your souls be weighed down with self-indulgence, and drunkenness, or the anxieties of this life, and that day come on you suddenly, like a falling trap; for it will come on all dwellers on the face of the whole earth. But beware of slumbering; and every moment pray that you may be fully strengthened to escape from all these coming evils, and to take your stand in the presence of the Son of Man” (Weymouth New Testament).

An article by Greer Fay Cashman titled “Historic March of the Living” was posted at jpost.com on April 19, 2025. Following are excerpts of the article.

This year’s March of the Living is historic in that it is the 80th anniversary of the liberation of Auschwitz and the end of World War II. It may also be the last time that Holocaust survivors will be physically able to participate.

This year, the march is of vital importance, as rabid anti-semitism becomes increasingly pervasive and makes us aware of how hatred develops into inhumanity. The March of the Living (which this year will include survivors of the Hamas massacre and hostages released from Gaza) is a reminder that Jews must remain eternally vigilant.

The March of the Living from Auschwitz to Birkenau was established in 1988 at the initiative of the late Abraham Hirshson, Shmuel Rosenman, and second-generation Holocaust survivor Baruch Adler.

Throughout the years, it has united Jews and non-Jews from around the world (including Holocaust survivors and their families) to come to Poland. They have often stayed on for several days to go to other extermination and concentration camp sites, to learn more about the Holocaust – and to meet “Righteous among the Nations” or their descendants. Visitors hear from them of the sacrifices made by non-Jews to save the lives of Jews – some of them they had not known before the war.

Jews were not the only victims. Other included Romani, political prisoners, homosexuals, and people with physical and mental disabilities.

The International March of the Living is now headed in New York. Organizers anticipate some 10,000 participants in this year's march – which will be led by President Isaac Herzog and his wife Michal, and Poland's President Andrzej Duda when participants convene at Auschwitz on Thursday, April 24.

Prior to leaving for Poland, the Herzogs will attend the state Holocaust Remembrance Day ceremony at Yad Vashem on Wednesday night.

The march this year will also pay tribute to the Allied forces led by General Dwight D. Eisenhower, who witnessed the Nazi atrocities.

Leading the march alongside the presidents of Poland and Israel will be 40 Holocaust survivors from Israel, aged 80 to 97, including survivors of Auschwitz, Birkenau, Buchenwald, Amuthausen, Dachau and Theresienstadt – as well as those who survived the war in hiding or as partisans in the forests.

They will be joined by another 40 survivors from around the world – making this one of the largest gatherings of living Holocaust survivors at Auschwitz in recent history.

Their triumph in survival will be emphasized by two and three generations of their families who will march with them.

A video and an article by Michael Starr titled “Watch: Israel Commemorates 80 Years Since the Holocaust” were posted at jpost.com on April 23, 2025. Following is the article.

Israel marked 80 years since the World War II genocide of the Jewish people on Wednesday night, with the beginning of Holocaust Remembrance Day.

A siren marking the six million victims of the Holocaust is set to sound on Thursday morning, at which point Israelis will cease all action and hold a moment of silence until the siren's end.

The flag was lowered to half-mast on Wednesday night at an official ceremony held at Yad Vashem, with the year's theme being “Out of the Depth: The Anguish of Liberation.”

The ceremony saw remarks by Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu and President Isaac Herzog, who noted the difficult commemoration as the country continues to fight a war and hostages are still held in Hamas captivity.

Released hostages sat in attendance at the ceremony as Herzog prayed for the return of those still captive and for the soldiers and their families who sacrificed in the fight on their behalf.

Herzog said: “This day, Holocaust Remembrance Day, is not only a day for looking backward. I speak here not only 80 years after the Holocaust but also a year and a half after the greatest massacre our people have endured since the Holocaust – when we are still wounded and bleeding, reeling and anxious. I wish to lift up the sanctity of this day, even as our nation looks forward – internalizing what I believe is the most crucial lesson and imperative: Just as we overcame 80 years ago – so shall we prevail again.”

Herzog said he would lead survivors, bereaved families, and former hostages in the March of the Living in Auschwitz on Thursday. He also said that he represented Holocaust survivors in a call for unity, hoping in the historic moment of “national responsibility” to “mend our hearts.”

Herzog continued: “We are living through days of fierce and painful division. And the overwhelming majority of our people cry out with all their might: Enough! Enough with the polarization. Enough with the hatred. History will not forgive those who act irresponsibly and tear us apart from within. History will not forgive those who weaken the foundations of our wonderful country – beloved, unique, Jewish, and democratic – born from the ashes of the terrible Holocaust. Our shared rebuilding, after this great fracture, is a tremendous and historic mission – not upon one person, or one community, or one camp, but upon all of us: as a nation, as a society, as individuals.”

Netanyahu arrived late to the ceremony – reportedly due to security issues, but top security officials were already present at the site.

The prime minister mourned the loss of the Holocaust victims, who “bore the scars of the terrible devastation” but, according to him, also the legacy of the Jewish nation.

He said he had been moved to tears when meeting Holocaust survivors this week and also during a diplomatic mission in Hungary, when visiting the bank of the Danube River, where a memorial of bronze shoes commemorating the murder of Hungarian Jews highlighted the destruction and resurrection of the Jewish people.

Netanyahu drew a comparison between the shoes and the memorials of yellow ribbons and stickers of fallen soldiers, praising the heroism of those that rose up to fight in the ghettos, saying that their spirit sparked the rebirth of the nation.

Netanyahu said: “I thought to myself about the tremendous changes that we’ve achieved over the last 80 years. After the Holocaust, we were like dust carried away by the wind. Now we have a country. We have an army. We have a security force. We have soldiers with a fierce spirit.”

Netanyahu noted the successes of the military since the October 7 massacre, crippling Hezbollah and Hamas, and noting the fall of the Assad regime. He threatened Iran with a similar fate if they continued down the path of nuclear weapons.

Netanyahu continued: “No one will prevent us from defending ourselves. If we need to stand alone, we shall stand alone. If we need to fight with our fingernails, we shall fight with our fingernails. But we will not relent.”

Holocaust Remembrance Day was a milestone in the path to destroying those that seek to eliminate us, said Netanyahu, comparing Hamas and their actions to those of the Nazis and the Holocaust.

Netanyahu said: “They are exactly like the Nazis, like Hitler, like Haman. They wish to kill and destroy all of the Jews. It’s not going to happen. We are going to annihilate these Hamas monsters.”

- Chief Rabbi Kalman Ber is set to recite a chapter from Psalms.
- Chief Rabbi David Yosef is set to recite the mourners’ kaddish.
- Holocaust survivor Yehuda Hauptman is to recite a prayer for the souls of the martyrs.
- Six other Holocaust survivors will light six torches – each representing a million souls extinguished by the Nazis and their collaborators.

On Thursday, the public is welcome to light candles in the Warsaw Ghetto Square in memory of those who fell victim to the Nazi persecution and genocide.

An article by Allen West titled “How Do You Want to Fight China?” was posted at townhall.com on April 14, 2025. Following is the article.

In the military, we believe that your enemy’s reality must become your own – or it will be at a time of grave disadvantage. Let’s put all silly pretense aside and come to the realization that Communist China is our number one geopolitical foe. They see us as such.

China has enacted such egregious actions against the United States since we foolishly enabled them to enter into the World Trade Organization. And once upon a time, when she had some sanity, even Nancy Pelosi spoke against granting China’s most favored trade nation status.

You don’t believe me? There is a 1996 video of her House floor speech. Pelosi was ranting about a $34 billion trade deficit with China back then. Uh, what is it today?

China has been guilty of theft of intellectual property to the point that its newest fighter jet seriously resembles our F-35. It has opened up markets and the ability for American companies to be based in China and then demanded forced transfers of technology.

China is openly killing Americans. I first realized that back when I was a member of Congress in Florida dealing with the Chinese drywall issue. China unleashed a biological weapon attack against America (and the world) by way of the Wuhan virus.

Quite insidiously so, you were attacked by our very own leftist media for saying “Wuhan virus.” (I bet the ChiComs got a laugh out of that.) Millions of Americans died in that biological weapon attack, and our economy took a big hit.

China has now unleashed a chemical weapon attack against America by way of fentanyl, killing over 250,000 of our citizens – including many young people, during the four years of the Biden administration.

China is at war with the United States.

- The question is, how will we fight them?
- Better, how do YOU want to fight them?

The economic trade deficit created with the Chinese (because we prefer a globalist agenda and cheap goods) means that China now surpasses us in shipbuilding. China, which once upon a time had no blue water Navy, can now boast of multiple aircraft carriers and the ability to conduct large-scale amphibious operations. A recent GAO report details that half of the (32) U.S. Navy amphibious ships are in poor condition, and some ships have been out of service for years.

The hundreds of billions of dollars in trade deficit with China enables them to have a global hegemonic vision called the One Belt, One Road strategy.

China is basically operating in every possible littoral region in the world. And that includes operating the entry and exit stages of one of the greatest engineering marvels know to man, built by America.....the Panama Canal.

Donald Trump seeks to defeat the ChiComs just as Ronald Reagan defeated the Soviet Union – economically.

China leads the 21st-century axis of evil. Their allies are Russia, Iran and North Korea. And you can bet your bottom dollar that China will support Islamic jihadists in their fight against the West.

China is already supporting the transnational narco-criminal terrorists we call the cartels.

- It has infiltrated tens of thousands of single military-age male Chinese into America.
- It buys up farming lands and food production facilities.
- It occupies terrain near strategic military installations.

Our lack of resolve, resilience, and strategic focus has brought us to this point. We are in a fight, say the Chinese, so that is our reality. Now, it is time to decide how to defeat the ChiComs and rally for that cause.

I found it utterly disturbing and cowardly how San Francisco was cleaned up for a visit by Xi Jinping – a symbol of surrender and acquiescence. If anything, now is the time to isolate Communist China economically. If that means less cheap goods from them, [darn] right, I will make that sacrifice.

We can choose this means of the fight, or the other is one where we will call upon our men and women to take the field.

I say we follow Reagan’s example, tear down the Great Wall, and watch the ChiComs collapse.

They are betting on a lack of resolve from Americans. They think we operate in 24 to 76-hour cycles or at the longest, two to four-year political cycles. Such folly is why we are in this position.

Let’s get that steely-eyed killer look and stare them down. I know that the progressive socialist leftists hate Trump. Therefore, they hate our Nation. Incompetents like California Congressman Eric Swalwell (who once slept with a ChiCom spy) will root against our success and our victory.

I say we fight the ChiComs here and now and bring them to their knees economically – that we rally an entire world against them and their cohorts. We produce, manufacture, and export our goods, services, and energy resources. This is our moment. Failure is not an option.

Steadfast and Loyal.

An article by Ryan King titled “RFK Jr., FDA Unveil 8 Harmful Dyes That Will Soon Be Phased Out of US Food Supply – Here’s What Could Be Next” was posted at nypost.com on April 22, 2025. Following are excerpts of the article.

The dye is cast. Eight harmful petroleum-based synthetic dyes will soon be phased out of the American food supply, according to plans unveiled Tuesday by Health and Human Services Secretary Robert F. Kennedy Jr. And Food and Drug Administration Commissioner Dr. Marty Makary.

Over the coming months, the FDA will revoke authorization for two synthetic food colorings (Citrus Red No. 2 and Orange B) and collaborate with the food industry to remove six other synthetic dyes – which can be found in foods such as Pop-Tarts, hot dog casings, Takis and Mountain Dew.

As part of the reform measures, health officials at the FDA and HHS plan to set up a timeline with food companies to push the industry away from petrochemical-based dyes and toward natural alternatives. To boost that transition, the FDA plans to authorize four natural color alternatives within the next few weeks and accelerate the review of others.

Here are the 8 food dyes RFK Jr. And the FDA are planning on phasing out.

- Blue No. 1 – Also known as Brilliant Blue FCF, Blue No. 1 is derived from petroleum to give foods (such as M&Ms and Takis) a blue hue.
- Blue No. 2 – Also known as indigo carmine or indigotine, Blue No. 2 mimics the color and properties of plant-based indigo dye in products like Skittles and blueberry Pop-Tarts.
- Citrus Red No. 2 – It’s used to color the peels of oranges, particularly those grown in Florida, that are not intended for processing.
- Green No. 3 – The artificial green dye (called Fast Green FCF) is produced through chemical synthesis.
- Orange B – The color additive is only permitted for use in hot dog and sausage casings. In high doses, it can damage the liver and bile duct.

- Red dye 40 – Also known as Allura Red AC, Red dye 40 gives red color to products like Kool-Aid, Starburst and NyQuil.
- Yellow No. 5 – Commonly known as tartrazine, Yellow 5 can be found in brightly colored sodas like Mountain Dew and processed snacks like Twinkies.
- Yellow No. 6 – Sunset Yellow FCF, imparts a vibrant yellow-orange hue to Airheads, Jolly Ranchers, Lucky Charms and other processed foods.

Makary pointed to studies such as one by The Lancet that raised concerns about the “correlation” between petroleum-based synthetic dyes and ailments such as hyperactivity, obesity, diabetes, cancer, gastrointestinal problems, allergies and more.

There are a total of 36 FDA-approved food dyes – including the nine artificial ones that come in part from petroleum and others that are derived from natural foods like vegetables.

Eliminating chemical additives in food has been a key objective of the “Make American Healthy Again Movement” (MAHA) that Kennedy has championed.

Isaiah 55:6-11–“Seek you the Lord while He may be found, call upon Him while He is near. Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; let him return to the Lord, and He will have mercy on him; and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon. ‘For My thoughts are not your thoughts, nor are your ways My ways,’ says the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than your ways, and My thoughts than your thoughts. For as the rain comes down, and the snow from heaven, and do not return there, but water the earth, and make it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower and bread to the eater, so shall My word by that goes forth from My mouth; it shall not return to Me void, but it shall accomplish what I please, and it shall prosper in the thing for which I sent it.”
