Luke 21:34-36—“But take heed to yourselves, lest your souls be weighed down with self-indulgence, and drunkenness, or the anxieties of this life, and that day come on you suddenly, like a falling trap; for it will come on all dwellers on the face of the whole earth. But beware of slumbering; and every moment pray that you may be fully strengthened to escape from all these coming evils, and to take your stand in the presence of the Son of Man” (Weymouth New Testament).

An article by Saul Sadka titled “12 Observations Following the 12-Day War” was posted at at jpost.com on June 26, 2025. Following is the article.

In just 12 days, Israel’s operations against Iran fundamentally altered the regional balance of power, dismantling decades of Iranian military buildup while exposing the hollow nature of Tehran’s threats.

Here are my 12 key observations from this short but transformative conflict – a war that began with Iran’s proxies attacking Israel and ended with the Islamic Republic’s nuclear program in ruins and its regional influence questioned.

These insights briefly summarize what happened, while analyzing what it means for the future of one of the most volatile regions in the world.

1. Israel was done with its targets

Once Israel bombed the “countdown clock” – that counted down to the IRGC’s planned destruction of Israel on September 9, 2040 – it was clear that Israel felt it did enough. You don’t fly a plane 2,000 miles round trip for that.

The operation set Iran back by 20 years and saw not a single Israeli or American military casualty. The Iranians were so defeated that they didn’t dare harm any U.S. personnel, telegraphing their paltry face-saving response in advance.

2. The players and the played

When the books are written, Netanyahu and Trump will be revealed as the main players, with everyone else being the “played.” Don’t be surprised if Trump’s F-bomb comments were coordinated with Netanyahu so he could tell his cabinet hawks: “Sorry, Trump is crazy.”

3. Regime change?

The IRGC is humiliated, and no attempts to put on a brave face can save them. Their supporters are aging out. They are effectively the unwilling vassals of Israel and the USA. Their leaders live and operate at their pleasure and can be eliminated on a whim. The only question is how much, and for how much longer, will they be able to immiserate Iran’s population of 90 million?

The threats of “regime change” and the bombing of the Basij HQ signaled what could be the next stage, and the “permitted” and foolish lashing out at Qatar was letting them off the escalation ladder into what is: A humiliating surrender. While regime change would indeed be a dream outcome, it would be better coming from the inside and not from Israel or the United States.

Don’t be fooled: Iran is still a danger via its sleepers in the West – an asset they would still be able to use after their fall, albeit less so.

Furthermore, regime change might be messy, so there is no reason for Israel or the U.S. to have that blamed on them. From a purely Machiavellian perspective, it’s better to have a weakened regime in Iran (under constant Israeli attrition as they try to rearm) than a strong, new Persia. It provides a useful foil to help unite Israel with the Arab nations.

4. Legacy at stake

There is no doubt in my mind that Netanyahu and Trump would dismantle the Iranian nuclear program, since they said they would – making an Iranian nuclear breakout a legacy-destroying cataclysm for both.

Now, as they claim the program is destroyed, we can be assured that it is – since the destruction of both their legacies would be even more acute if they were proved wrong now. And there is now minimal impediment to continuing to attrit the program.

5. IRGC rebuilding?

The IRGC may try to rebuild, but it will be much harder now that they live inside what (at any minute) might be Israeli airspace again. Also, with the regime so obviously penetrated from within, expect their levels of paranoia and recrimination to be overwhelming. Expect plenty of executions of all the wrong people, while Mossad assets safely continue their work as usual.

6. Head of the snake

The days of Israel not attacking the head of the octopus when the “tentacles” attack are over.

Israel will be eager to use any proxy attacks as a casus belli to suppress their rebuilding efforts. Since Iran's cards were exposed as a bluff, any proxy attack is liable to bring kinetic responses on Iran.

Proxy warfare is great – until the other side decides to bypass them. They might not bother, since they fired over 550 ballistic missiles and 1,000 drones at Israel (in addition to at least the same number again they lost on the ground) and failed to kill a single serviceman or cause any strategic damage.

What's the point of these programs? They spend 5 years rebuilding their stocks at the cost of billions just to kill a minibus full of civilians who didn't make it to the bunker? A strategic player wouldn't bother. Without the nuclear tips, this is not deterrence.

7. Trump's deniability strategy

The war is over. Israel again stands alone. That's what Trump needed to appease the disinformation-infected parts of his base who promised World War III. If war restarts between Israel and Iran (because the Houthis start up again), Trump can disclaim all involvement. That's what today was about.

The start of the war saw the opposite: The U.S. disclaimed any connection until it was clear that Israel was crushing the IRGC handily, and then suddenly it was "we."

8. 11 days to decapitation

This war unraveled 40 years of Iranian buildup and virtually decapitated the regime in 11 days – without a single combat loss. There is simply no precedent for anything like this in history. Nothing even close.

9. Israel flips the proxy script

Israel has totally flipped the script. It can now attack Iranian proxies at will, with Iran not daring to fight back directly – the position Israel was in until 12 days ago. At the same time, it is now obvious that Israel has extensive links with armed opposition inside Iran and is free to mount an internal proxy war against the IRGC.

10. No proxies when it mattered

40 years of Iran building proxies to attack – and those proxies were totally absent when the time arrived. Simply brutal.

11. Israel's century secured

Israel has secured its place in the Middle East for a century via overwhelming force, the only currency with any value in the region. Sinwar's folly sank the Axis of Resistance, which was the third great attempt to eliminate the Jewish State. Now it is surrounded by states that are either allies, vassals, or like Turkey facing the Kurds – busy with internal issues.

12. The uranium.....

Where is the enriched uranium?

Netanyahu publicly stated (with a glint in his eye) that they know where it is. Don't be surprised if the most audacious part of this war will one day be revealed to have been a special forces operation to extract it.

More likely, Israel knows it's under the rubble, and will be monitoring that rubble from afar for the foreseeable future.

Turning Point USA founder Charlie Kirk appeared on Fox News Friday [June 27] to discuss what he says is the “biggest fight” President Donald Trump will face in his second term.

The Democrats' primary methods of resistance have relied heavily on lawsuits and injunctions. Kirk predicted the final battle will be waged through bureaucratic resistance from within the very structures of the federal government.

Kirk said the following comments.

- “They are going to try leak on everything President Trump does.”
- “President Trump has to be careful. Are they listening to your phone call? Are they recording you secretly?”
- “I don’t want to try to introduce paranoia, but they are going to be very desperate after this decision from the Supreme Court. They are going to have defiance. They’re doing to walk off the job, and they are also going to do something more subtle. They are going to try to slow walk the bureaucracy. They are masters at this. They try to run out the clock.”

An article by Mariane Angela titled “5 Times Media Tried to Take Down Trump, but Took Themselves Down Instead” was posted at dailycaller.com on July 4, 2025. Following are excerpts of the article.

1. MSNBC shakes up primetime lineup after host (Joy Reid) repeatedly targets Trump.
  2. Media mocks Trump’s ‘Daddy’ meme, but ends up making it go viral instead.
  3. Corporate media blamed Trump for soaring egg prices, then prices crashed and made them look foolish.
  4. MSNBC’s rating significantly dropped following Trump’s presidential win.
  5. Media reports on Iran strikes prove premature as officials clarify damage was too early to assess.

Isaiah 55:6-11—“Seek you the Lord while He may be found, call upon Him while He is near. Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; let him return to the Lord, and He will have mercy on him; and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon. ‘For My thoughts are not your thoughts, nor are your ways My ways,’ says the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than your ways, and My thoughts
